Viking

1947

Each star on the cover of the 1947 VIKING is symbolic of a lustrum or five-year period. The five lustra represent twenty-five years of stellar achievement. But these stars mean more to North Dallas than mere records and memories of the past. They symbolize the North Star, the goal and ambition of each graduating class. The principles of this star, exemplified by the five cardinal virtues of loyalty, ambition, courage, determination, and faith, have been upheld by every class, and the star itself has been handed down from each class president to the next in a traditional ceremony. Thus these five lustra not only shine for twenty-five years of past achievement, but also project the ideals of North Dallas into a future fraught with promise.

Silver Jubilee

25 Years in

In 1922, at a cost of $750,000, the Board of Education opened the doors of North Dallas High School, the fourth high school in the city. In this period of twenty-five years—from the day of the “trapper” and the “jelly bean” to the present age of the “bobby-soxer”—North Dallas has grown from an enrollment of 794 to over 1,400 students.

In 1922 Warren Harding was president, and the country was in a state of deflation. The latest entertainment was vaudeville or a silent movie featuring the “It” girl, Clara Bow, or the romantic lover, Rudolph Valentino. The song at the top of the hit parade was “I’m Always Chasing Rainbows,” and the new dance step, the Charleston, was becoming the rage.

North Dallas of 1922 was considerably different, too, from the North Dallas of today. The building was situated in a cornfield, with one streetcar line within two blocks of the campus, and another running past the east side to S.M.U. The first student body was composed entirely of underclassmen, transfers from Bryan Street High School for the most part. Only half of the building was used during the first semester. At first there were no shades, chairs, or lockers, and classes were continually interrupted by the noise of workmen installing seats in the auditorium. Since Dallas had no summer school, students could repeat a course as many times as they felt that they or the teachers could stand it. Even then, “103” was very popular with many students as an after-school activity.

The school motif has always been some symbol pertaining to the North. A magazine no longer published was called The Norther; the Compass, which first appeared in 1930, is the name of the school paper; the annual was named The Viking. The school emblem is the North Star, whose points symbolize loyalty, ambition, courage, faith, and determination. Its presentation to each new senior class was established as a tradition by the first graduating class.

North Dallas

North Dallas early set the pace for school spirit. A score meant as much as a game; a parade through the business section of town followed each athletic event, and at the downtown theaters spotlights were flashed on the star players. It must be remembered that during the first years there were no lettermen, and so the school was challenged to make a name for itself.

The first Dads' Club in the city was organized here in 1923. With the organization of the North Dallas R.O.T.C. unit, Colonel Alvin Ousley became the military sponsor. In the first parade, since we had no cadet personnel above the rank of sergeant, officers from Bryan Street High School were used.

In 1925 the Bulldog football team won five out of seven games and produced three all-city men, one of them gaining an all-state rank. In the same year under the direction of the late Miss Ruth Curtis the girls' chorus and boys' glee club staged an operetta entitled "The Pennant," a comedy of school life.

The year 1926 opened with the daring production, "Teachers' Follies," which featured Egyptian snake dances, hoboes, and belles of 1906. Miss Epperson was the producer, and Cleopatra was portrayed by Miss Dice, with Mr. Baker carrying the royal snake which slew her.

1927 found the Bulldogs barely beaten by Oak Cliff High for the city football championship. On December 1927 the North Dallas Glee Club was organized and remains today one of the school's most important organizations.

"The Pennant," a comedy of school life was produced under direction of Miss Ruth Curtis. The current form of entertainment was going to the Old Mill Theater and listening to the voice of Gene Austin singing such songs as "All Alone."

25 Years in

In 1933 North Dallas won the thrift cup award for the sixth consecutive year, and by 1936 North Dallas tennis teams also had won for the sixth consecutive year the city championship, taking in addition the state girls' doubles championship in 1935. In 1936 for the fifth consecutive year North Dallas debate teams won the city championship. In 1938, and again in 1941, the boys' debate teams won the state championship. Out of the six cups offered in the Latin tournament, our students were taking from two to four in every contest.

In the fall came the climax to this winning spree when North Dallas fielded probably the greatest football eleven ever to wear the Orange and White. The '36 team, under coaches Anderson and Hyde, brought back to North Dallas the only city football championship that it has ever attained, winning seven out of eight season games.

In 1939 even bathing beauties came in for their share of the glory when Miss Eleanora Currin had bestowed upon her the title of "Miss North Dallas" in a contest held at the swimming pool. Miss Currin had also the honor of being the first student to enroll whose parents were both graduates of North Dallas.

It was during this time that O. S. Castlen, who had opened the Cole and Haskell Drug Store in 1932, established the annual trophy for the most valuable football player, and was made an honorary member of the faculty. For over fifteen years he has had a smile for every Bulldog and has given strong support to North Dallas.

For winning the most points in Interscholastic League events, North Dallas was awarded the Kiwanis Trophy in 1940, when it was first presented, and again in '41.

It was in 1940 that the numerical grading system was replaced by the letter system and the twelfth grade added.

1942 marked the beginning of World War II, and North Dallas students and teachers alike worked to do their part for their country.

YES SIR SHES
MAH BABY!

North Dallas

In 1944 the gymnasium rocked to such tunes as "Begin the Beguine." This was the year that the well-known Sheats-to-Dickerson combination was selected for the all-city football team, and Mr. Comstock at one of the games became so excited that he broke his glasses. In that year, also, North Dallas was chosen by Look Magazine for a pictorial story on typical school life. In February North Dallas held her famous Service Recognition Program in honor of North Dallas students in the armed forces.

When students returned to enroll in North Dallas for the fall term of 1945, after a summer which saw the war's end, they found something North Dallas had never before known, a new principal. Mr. Comstock, "Mr. North Dallas," had been promoted, and to fill his place came Mr. W. O. Pipes. All-city Jack Carpenter and Bill Hunter led the Bulldogs through one of the most successful football seasons the school had had in years, the schedule ending in a tie with Sunset for second place.

In April of 1946 the school was visited by an evaluation committee, and received a superior rating. The rifle team won the city match, and the shoulder-to-shoulder contest, Bill Stewart firing the highest score ever fired in the history of a Dallas R.O.T.C. unit. The stellar athletic event of the year was the track meet in which Cleburne Price became the high-point man in the state. Although Price was the only participant from North Dallas, his twenty-three points placed the school fourth in the meet.

A successful season in every field, the largest graduating class it has ever had, and an impressive anniversary celebration marked the school's silver-jubilee year of 1947. Since that opening day of 1922, North Dallas has made a name for itself, and has fulfilled its obligation to the individual student and to the community as a whole. North Dallas may well look back with pride on twenty-five years of activity and service.

PERSONALITIES

Mary Margaret Biggs—Vivacious is the word for Mary Margaret. Her sparkling smile and friendly ways immediately win the hearts of all whom she meets. Not only does she have winning ways, but she is a demon on the tennis court, has many club activities, and a fine scholastic record.

Yvonne Armour—Never to be forgotten is Yvonne's rare ability to be popular and to maintain a high scholastic record. Outstanding examples of her popularity are her position as secretary of her class and 1946 Football Queen. Yvonne is a member of the National Honor Society and during her career in North Dallas she has acquired a record which would be hard to beat.

PERSONALITIES

Lee Slaughter—Lee is famous in North Dallas for his curly red hair and his sense of humor. He keeps himself pretty busy supporting the various sports and takes an active part in baseball. Also helping to bring him to his present fame is his work on the Compass staff and Debate teams.

Stanley Rutland—This individualist is easily recognized by his freckles and blinking eyes. Also notable about "Demo" is his bashfulness and habit of nicknaming everybody. When it comes to football, he is an ace in the backfield and is expected to be a mainstay in the '47 squad.

PERSONALITIES

Bill Dodson Working hard for the Bulldogs, "Yankee" helped to bring glory to North Dallas during the football seasons of 1945 and '46, and his spirit made him a really valuable player. One of his outstanding characteristics is his good sense of humor. His swell personality accounts for his popularity. When we think of Bill Dodson, we think of an all round good guy.

Henry Shiels Henry made himself famous by his contortionistic antics while cheerleading, and many students are surprised to see him walking upright around the halls. This brown-eyed lad has talent to spare when it comes to art. His cartoons are a N. D. specialty.

PERSONALITIES

Edward Thiele —"Big Ed" has the rare ability to get the most done with as little effort as possible. He writes songs, poetry, and editorials, sings solo and with the A Capella Choir, and throws his weight around the gridiron to the advantage of the Bulldogs. This senior of many talents has a flashing smile and easy-going ways that readily make him a favorite.

Charles Chatfield —Here is one of North Dallas's leading students and personalities. He has been active in golf and debate and is a member of the National Honor Society. As president of the Student Council, he conducted the assemblies and aided in working out many school problems. Adding all of the services he has rendered to the school and the honors he has brought to it, his own likeable personality, we have one of the best leaders in school.

PERSONALITIES

Barbara Hershfield—At football games and pep assemblies Barbara displayed her school spirit by leading the students in cheer after cheer. Being chosen the 1947 Valentine Queen gives proof enough of her popularity among the students. She has, however, received countless other honors. Barbara is always ready to greet you with a friendly smile, and without doubt, she is one of North Dallas's favorite personalities.

Betty Owings—Betty is one of the most active North Dallasites to be found. She can be seen giving her full support to almost any school activity, although her main interests lie along the lines of journalism and dramatics. She is on the Compass, Viking, and Pub staffs and had one of the leads in the senior play. Not only is she talented, but she has one of the best personalities in school; as a matter of fact, Betty is just a swell, all-around girl.

The North Dallas football squad of 46 proved again that fighting until the last gun has sounded is the style of a Bulldog. North Dallas was proud of its team throughout the season. When all city berths were handed out, one from Dallas was chosen. Bill Hunter, our scrapping guard, who had that never-say-die spirit. It was the enthusiasm of the team, the expert coaching of Mr. Hyde and Mr. Atkins, and the solid backing of the student body that kept our Bulldogs fighting from start to finish.

To open the season the Bulldogs took on the state co-champs, Highland Park. The Scotias, with more weight and experience, proved too much for our fighting gridsters. Throughout the game we found many mistakes which we were able to correct before the city series began.

A week later North Dallas drew blood from Tyler. From the beginning to end the boys outplayed their opponents in every way. The Bulldogs seemed to gain at random.

Inspired by the victory over Tyler, the Bulldogs played their best game a week later when they played host to Paschal of Fort Worth. Our underrated gridsters came from behind in the second half to tie the count with the highly favored Panthers. They held Paschal to a net gain of 4 yards from scrimmage.

Our last game before the city series found us invading Temple. There we met with supreme difficulty. The boys of the gridiron had trouble stopping the unbalanced line of Temple. Again we had to come from behind to knot the score.

The Adamson Leopards were the first to oppose the Bulldogs in their fight for the city title. Because of the exceptionally good kicking of Adamson, North Dallas played most of the game in the shadow of their own goal posts.

Fully recovered from their beating the week before, our boys outplayed the Forest Lions in every way, only to be defeated by an extra point. Long runs and gallant goal line stands highlighted this exciting game.

The first victory in the city series came when the Bulldogs beat the Tech High Wolves. The constant hard charging and hard running of the Bulldogs chalked up this score.

The Sunset Bisons, our fourth opponent of the city race, proved to be a burr in the hair of the Bulldogs. Again the unbalanced line was too much for our gridsters.

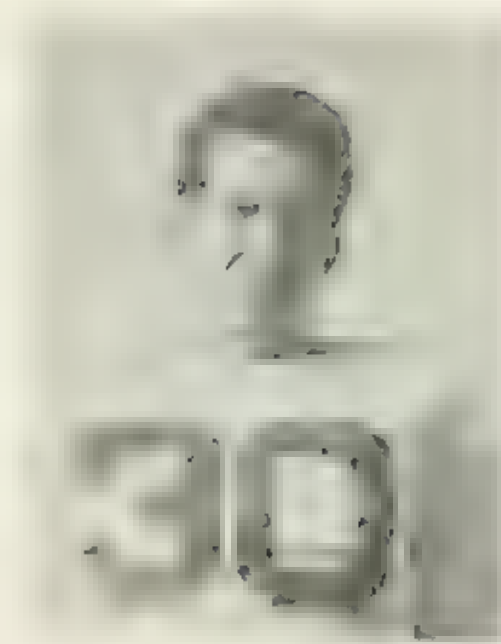

On Thanksgiving Day the Bulldogs showed that old man luck was really dead when they defeated the Woodrow Wilson Wildcats. Nothing could stop our boys; neither could the triple "W" gain on the ground or through the air.

GUARDS

BILL HUNTER An All City selection for two years tells the story of this rough guard. His ability to sense a play and then do something about it made him a great player.

BILL DODSON Although small in stature he made up for his size by playing a fighting brand of ball. He outplayed larger and heavier boys throughout the season, proving that one does not have to weigh 200 pounds to engage in the gridiron sport.

ROBERT MAXFIELD —Charging hard and fast made Robert a hard lad to stop. His never quit spirit helped him to become a well liked boy among his team mates.

FRANK ANDERSON Starting the season as center, he was soon switched to guard, where he took great advantage of his tackling and blocking ability. Where there was a pileup you would always find Frank at the bottom, just as his duty required.

CENTER

NEIL NEILSON of Gibraltar, this gridster broke up many opposing plays. His pinpoint centering and line backing earned him the respect of the opposing players.

MANAGER

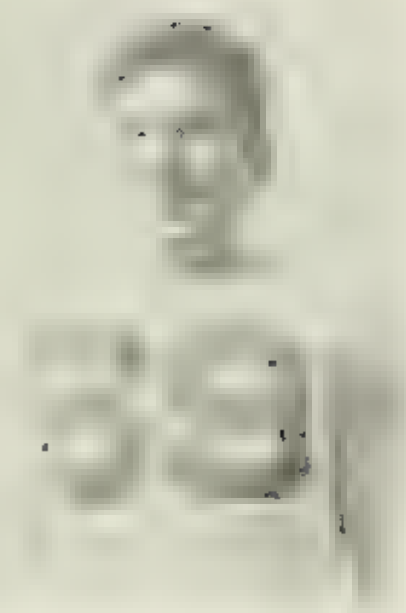

NEAL LACEY Because of the patience of this boy the Bulldogs were furnished with many things. Throughout the season he brought us water when we were tired, he gave us needed equipment, and he waited on us hand and foot. He took a lot from us in the way of jibes without a sound of back talk, too. We, of the football team, appreciate a manager like Neal.

BACKS

BOBBY DAVIS Smart ball handling, nifty running, and sure passing was the style of this Orange and White player. His play calling was the difference between winning and losing in many of our games.

JAMES BRADLEY Crashing the line and throwing blocks was the specialty of this big boy. His bone-crushing tackles from his line backing position brought many spectators to their feet.

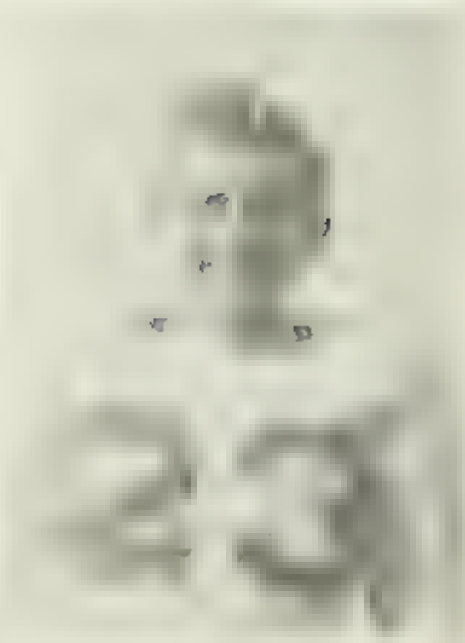

BILL RICHARDSON His ability to skirt the ends, to smash the middle of the line, and to kick started the Bulldogs in overcoming many opponents. Bill's speed sometimes made it possible for him to pass his blockers.

DONALD BENNETT This little back was loved by his team mates because of the way he set up blocks "Pete" for, and his interference to the line men. Because of an injury early in the season he wasn't able to participate in very many games.

STANLEY RUTLAND This easygoing guy never seemed to be rattled and always turned in a bang up game. His line blocking added much strength to the Bulldog forward wall.

PERRY WILSON Small but well-stocked, this gridster packed plenty of punch. However, his injured arm limited the length of his playing time.

JOE THOMAS "Joker," as he is known among the team members, kept alive the spirit to win when the chips were down. His exceptional speed and alertness kept the other team continually on its toes.

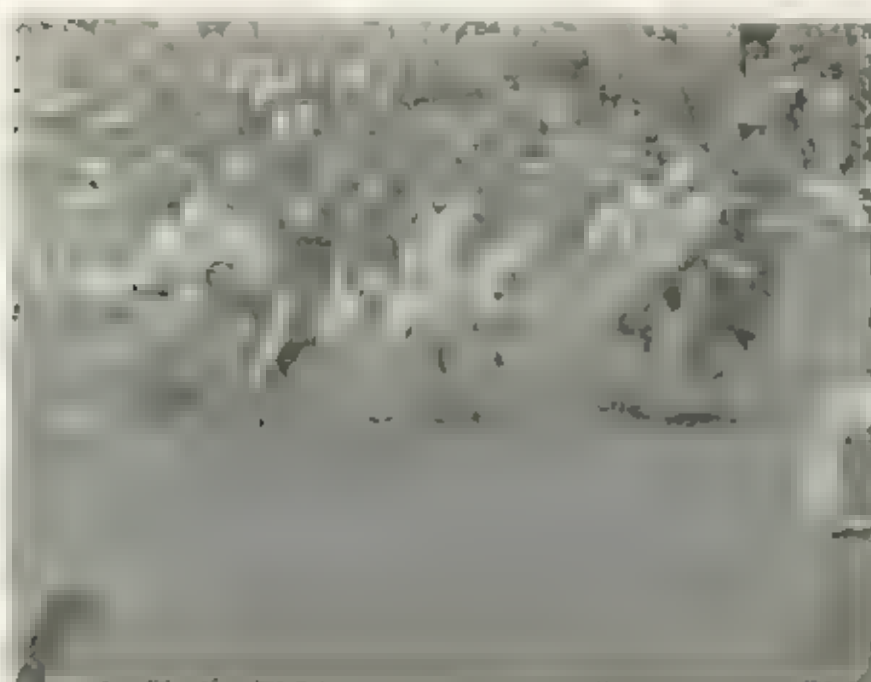

GEORGE SUTTON His ability to be there at the right time helped George to become such a good player. The switching of this big boy from end to back aided the Bulldogs in many contests.

ROGER DAVIS The kicking of this gridster figured greatly in many North Dallas games. Not only his kicking but also his relentless spirit helped the Bulldogs to carry on.

CLEBURNE PRICE His ability to catch as well as run made this fleet footed lad the main cog in our passing combination and a mainstay of the Orange and White offense.

ROBERT OWENS His height, as well as size, made him a hard boy to stop knock aside. Without his kind of enthusiasm the squad would be helpless.

REX THOMAS A demon on the defense, he was more than able to uphold his end of the Bulldog attack. His dependable pass snatching was also instrumental in the Canine victories.

TACKLES

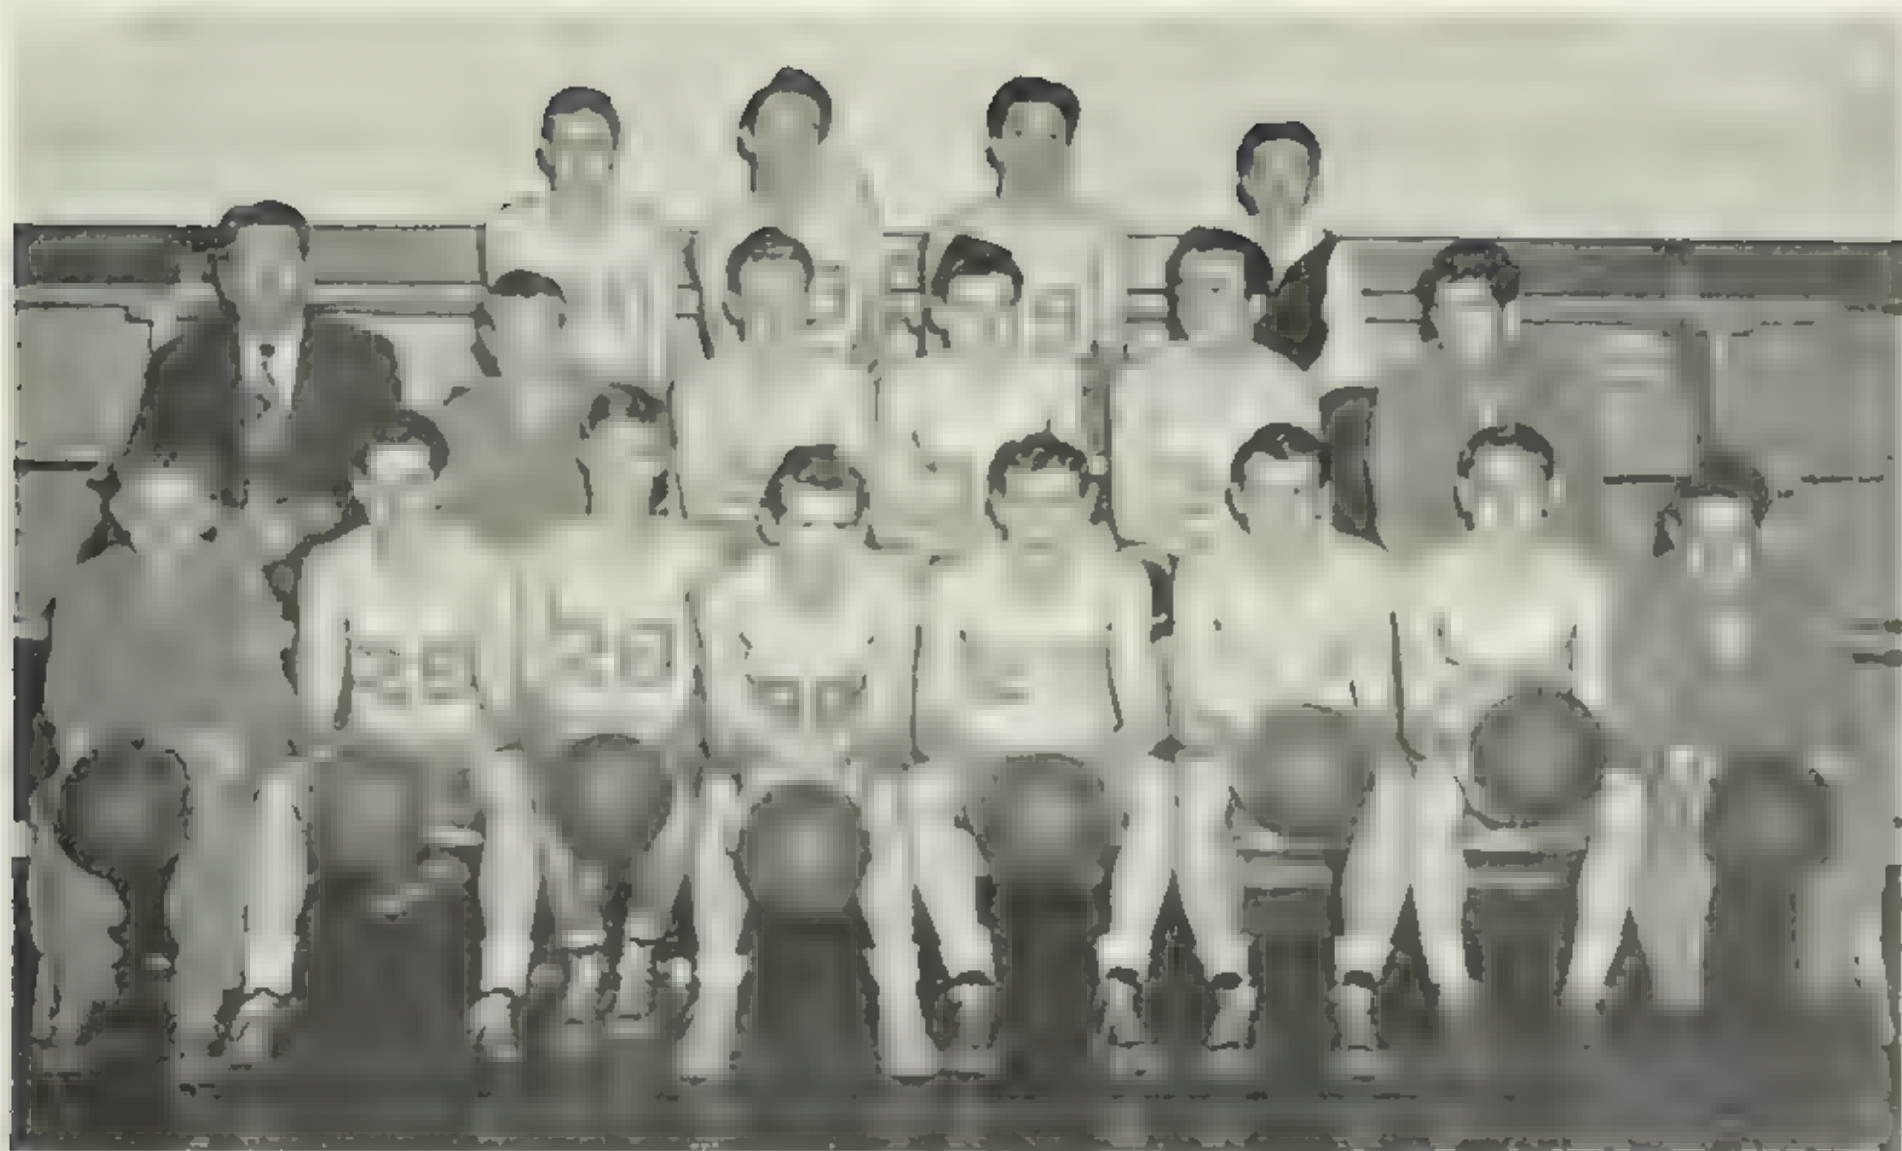

NICK PUSPURICA This big tackle more than deserved honorable mention for All City. His hard charging and blocking made him a feared man in the hearts of our opponents.

ED THIELE Using his size and ability, this boy dealt the opposing line misery. His furious blocking accounted for the opening of many gaping holes in the enemies' line.

JOHNNY GOODWIN Towering above the rest of his team mates, Johnny tackled as well as blocked with the fury of a hurricane. His dependable line play was always a help to the Hoosiers.

HAL QUINN The biggest boy on the 46 club, his weight proved to good advantage both on defense and offense. He could always be counted on to play hard against insurmountable odds.

Basketball

The basketball team, under the guidance of J. R. Williams, finished the season with a record of 10 wins and 2 losses. The team was selected to represent the school at the AAU tournament, the only team allowed to participate. The team was expected to try to plant the seed for a championship.

During the season, the team played three games. The first game was a loss to Tech, the second game was a win over Sunset, and the third game was a win over the Tech team.

However, the team's season came to an end in the post-season. The team was selected to represent the school at the AAU tournament, the only team allowed to participate. The team was expected to try to plant the seed for a championship.

J. R. Williams and Clay Williams were selected for the AAU tournament. Williams was selected for the AAU tournament team after the post-season event.

TRACK SEASON

The Bulldogs' track and field team had a successful season, with many individual and team achievements. In the mile relay, the team clinched the victory.

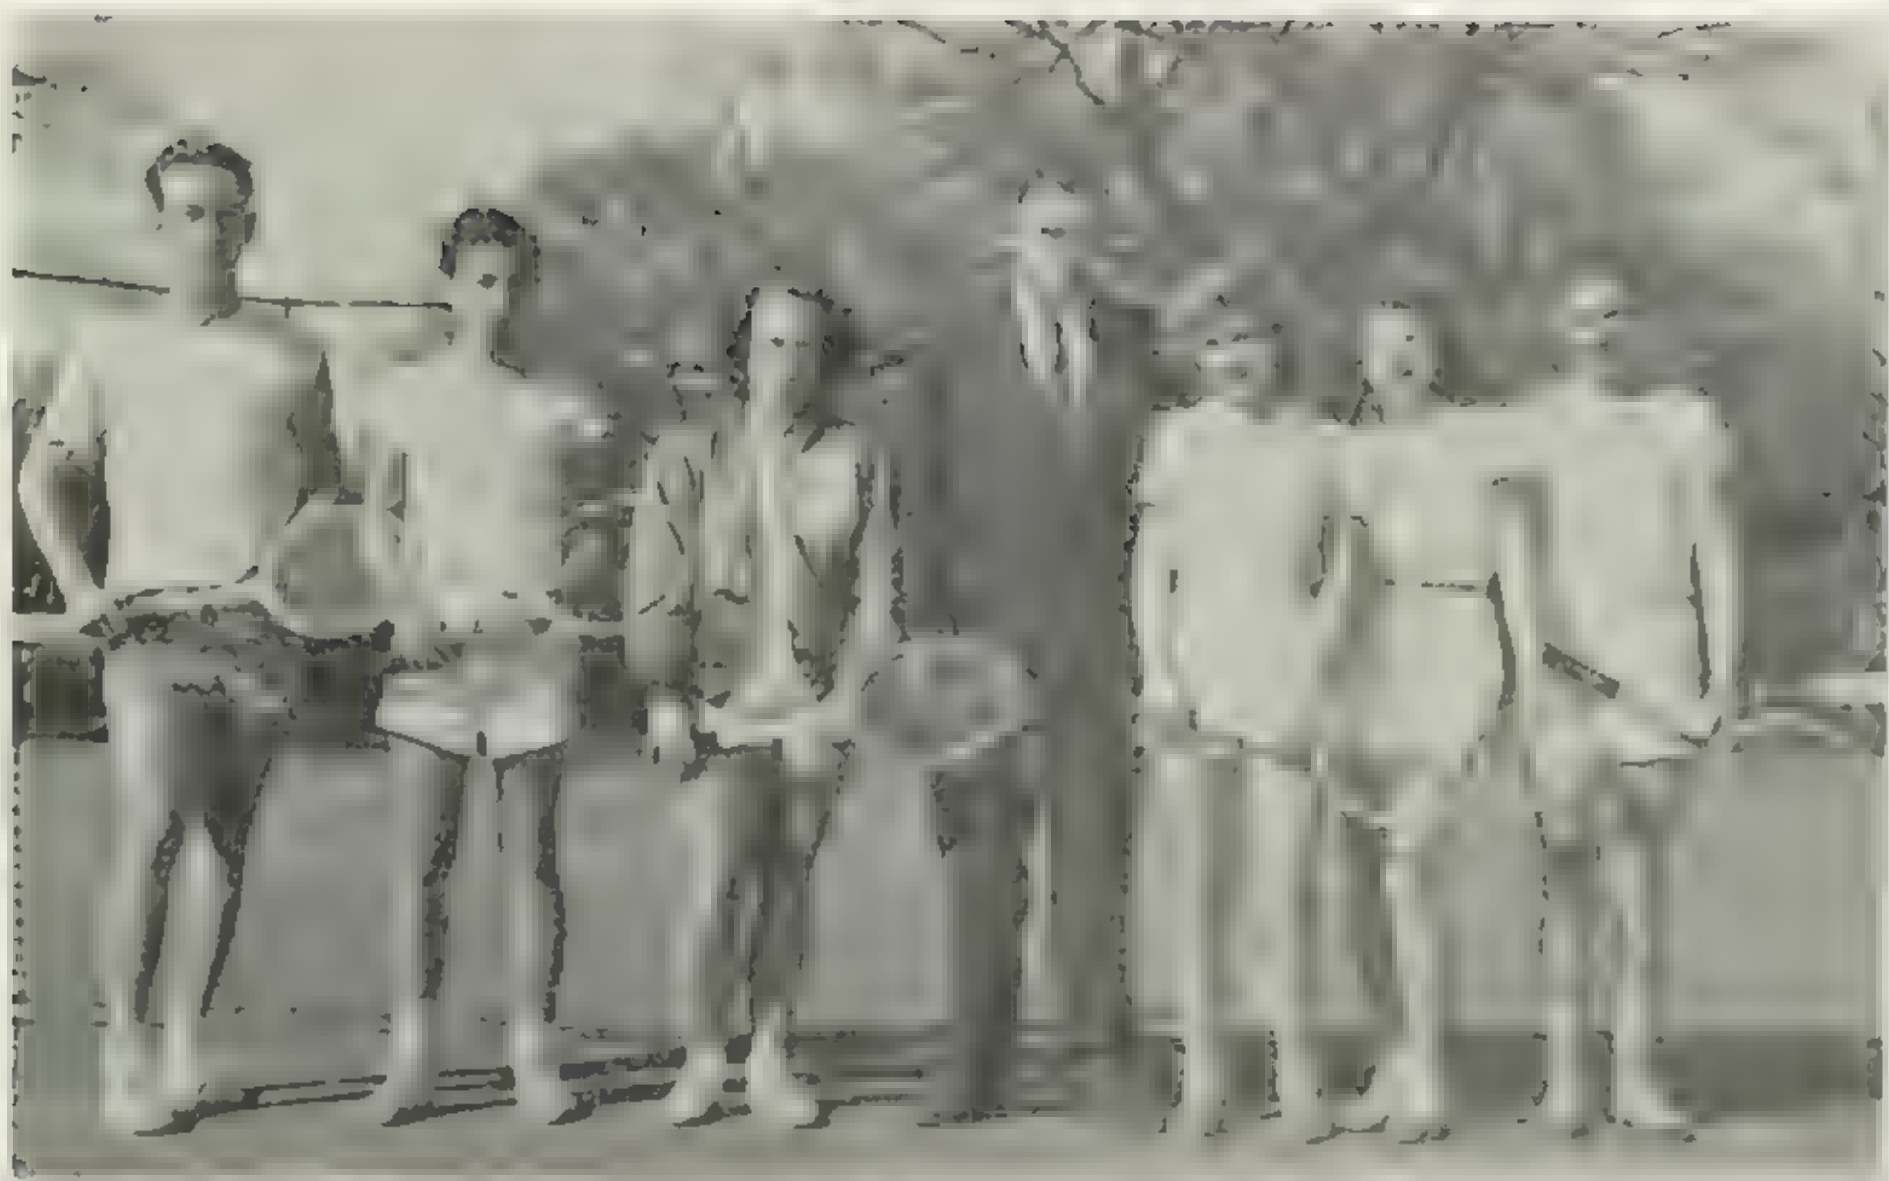

Cleburne Price turned in the best individual performance in the history of the city meet, taking four first places and helping win another. He set a new record in the high hurdles and tied the record time in the low hurdles. Anthony Carrillo also won points in both hurdle events. Other pointmakers were Hal Quinn, Carroll Hornburg, Frank Lewis, Kenneth Bailey, Sam Angelo, Bill Richardson, Howard Hoes, Charles Dugger and Billy Prewitt.

Price was high-point man for the second straight year in the regional meet in which Canines finished second. He broke both hurdle records, being pushed hard by Beasley of Forest and Anthony Carrillo, who placed third in each event. The sprint relay team composed of Price, Kenneth Bailey, Bill Richardson, and Sam Angelo, also turned in a surprise record-breaking performance.

The Bulldogs have hopes for another successful season next year with lettermen Davis, Angelo, Prewitt returning, and also several good prospects from this year's squad.

Tennis

The tennis team was composed of four men and four women. The men were Mr. W. H. Stone, Mr. E. W. Stone, Mr. E. W. Stone, and Mr. E. W. Stone. The women were Mrs. W. H. Stone, Mrs. E. W. Stone, Mrs. E. W. Stone, and Mrs. E. W. Stone. They were all members of the tennis club and were very active in the sport. They were all very good players and were very popular with their friends and family.

Every year the tennis team was very successful and won many trophies. They were all very hard workers and were very dedicated to their sport. They were all very good players and were very popular with their friends and family.

Baseball

The North Hills season began the 1947 season April 7 with Light prospects for a city championship. An experienced team, led by the eight returning lettermen, Adolph Lindsley, Buster Bowles, Doyle Craig, Charles Squibb, Roy Hughes, Guy Wallace, Neil Neilson and William Guy, was expected to go far in the city race. The Bulldogs were ably coached this year by C. M. Bollinger, new addition to the staff from Wilmer-Hutchins.

As the season began, the team looked strong in the infield and pitching departments. Four lettermen, Charles Squibb, first base; Roy Hughes, second base; Guy Wallace, shortstop; and Neil Neilson, third base, made up this powerful infield. A pitching staff of Doyle Craig, Buster Bowles, Lee Slaughter, John Chappell and Lee Bowman, new comers from New Jersey, could be counted on for many shutout innings. In the outfield, Letterman Willie Guy was backed up by Jimmie Melcher, Lee Goodtree and Ralph Ellis and Jim Daugherty. Behind the bat the canines had lettermen Adolph Lindsley, Darrell Freeman, and Wayne Baker.

Up to this writing the Bulldogs had played but one game. They downed Tech 4-1 behind the brilliant hurling of Buster Bowles.

Military

For his inspiring leadership, constant devotion to duty, and loyalty to our school and corps, and his understanding and helpfulness in our problems, we dedicate this section to

Technical Sergeant Fred Weiss

Captain Virgil E. Craven
 Captain Infantry; United States Army;
 Senior Instructor R.O.T.C.; Regular

L.MAY'SA MAFER, MY YA, GOT ROCKS IN YER HEAD?

How to manage a husband: Feed him well, treat him right, and trust to luck.

Some women hold their age better than others; some are able to hold it at 35 for several years.

If a girl can make you happy or unhappy, you are a very young man. If a lady can make you happy, but not unhappy for long, you are middle-aged. If a woman can make you neither happy nor unhappy, you should not have lived so long!

Could it be that the weaker sex is often the stronger sex because of the weakness of the stronger sex for the weaker sex?

Any woman can put more into a look than a man can put into a book.

If she carries the kid like a sackful of eggs, it's her first; if she carries it like a raincoat, it's her fourth.

A woman is as old as she looks—before breakfast.

Parents are so credulous! They spank one end of a kid, believing that will cure a trouble which they well know originated at the other end.

Youngsters would be more endurable if they didn't start talking back before they're spoken to.

Somehow we believe the Lord will make allowance for what a man says when he steps into a clothes basket in the dark on the steps leading to the basement.

LOOSE ENDS

Making human beings happy is a simple business: Fill the child's stomach, fill the woman's wardrobe; fill the man's purse.

Sometimes we think the world is growing worse, and then again, we think maybe the reporters are just working harder.

Possibly if we stopped preaching the blessings of the American way of life to the benighted aliens, we might have time to make it almost as good as we advertise it to be.

From here it looks like another world war would make the world entirely safe for democracy.

There are two sides to every question, and both sides are well-battered by the politicians.

The middle course is preferred by those who don't know where they're going but like to have company on both sides.

Comic strip artists these days have a hard grind trying to keep their strips funnier than the news columns.

Best sellers in current fiction are divisible, like Caesar's Gaul, into three parts: Neurotic, erotic, and tommyrotic.

Why don't distillers put vitamins in liquor? Then, by building himself down, the consumer would remain alive longer.

A criminologist asserts that few men commit acts of violence soon after a hearty meal. This may explain why so many after-dinner speakers live so long.

A pessimist has this advantage: whether his expectations turn out right or wrong, he can be happy about it.

The words of the lips are double or single.

True or false as we say or sing,
But the words of the eyes that mix and mingle

Are always saying the same old thing.

The proverbs teach us that a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush, and that the patient waiter is no loser.

There are two reasons why people don't mind their own business. Either they have no mind or they haven't any business.

"Come over quick, Doc. My wife has appendicitis."

"Nonsense. I removed your wife's appendix three years ago. How can anyone have a second appendix?"

"Listen, did you ever hear of anyone having a second wife?"

A Delphian once solemnly said, "It is the duty of the Delphian Club to make Delphians out of its members."

Miss Carmichael: "What do you know about nutrition, class?"

Mary Ann Constantino: "Well, I've been eating for years."

In 17th-century England many church pews were not only fenced in by high glass partitions but they were comfortably furnished with armchairs, tables, stationery, smoking materials, and even a fireplace.

Jerry Elliott: "You know, George proposed to me last night."

Rose Gowan: "Doesn't he do it beautifully?"

The proprietor of a highly successful optical shop was instructing his son as to how to charge a customer.

"Son," he said, "after you have fitted the glasses, and he asks what the charge will be, you say: 'The charge is $10.' Then pause and wait to see if he flinches.

"If the customer doesn't flinch, you then say, 'For the frames. The lenses are another $10.'

"Then you pause again, this time only slightly, and watch for the flinch. If the customer doesn't flinch this time you say, firmly, 'Each.'"

Barbara Mathis can be best described as having a beautiful profile all the way down.

Shirley Houston was asked where she didn't get the bathing suit.

The girl who, incandescent, glows
Where sun and wind have kissed her
Is less alluring to her beaux
When she begins to blister.

"The man who'd take advantage of a young girl's innocence used to be a cad," said Joyce Givens; "now he's an optimist."

An old-fashioned girl blushes when she is embarrassed; a modern girl is embarrassed when she blushes.

A kiss is a course of procedure, cunningly devised, for the mutual stoppage of speech at a moment when words are superfluous.

A friend of a famous doctor was going on a sea voyage. The doctor told him to write every time anything came up. The friend said he would and dutifully wrote him after each meal.

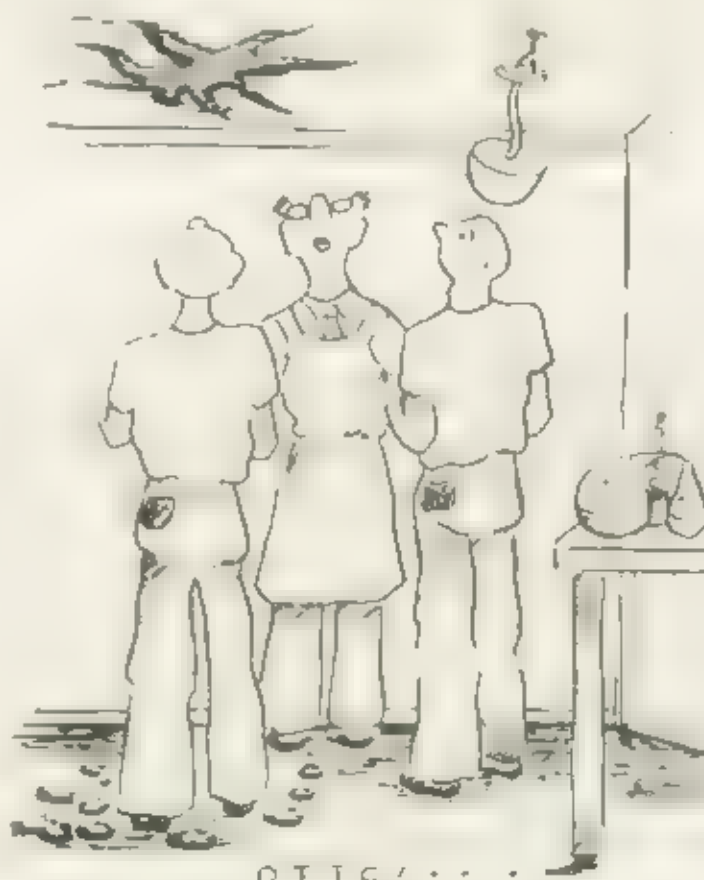

To enable people to fulfill their frequently expressed desire to kick themselves, Commissioner Tom Haywood of New Bern, North Carolina, built a kicking machine. Placed in front of his home, it was used by many passers-by.

A man gazed incredulously at a huge mounted fish. Finally he said, "The man who caught that fish is a liar!"

"And what does my little boy want to be when he grows up—a great engineer like Uncle Thudber?"

"No," replied her small son, "I wanna be a neurotic—like Papa."

A woman with her hair combed up always looks as if she were going some place, either to the opera or the shower bath—depending on the woman.

YOUR GUYS JUST DON'T KNOW A GOOD FIT WHEN YEE SEE ONE.

Old lady, when asked by a Scotch minister if she liked his address: "I didna like it much, and for three reasons. Ye read it! Ye did no' read it well!! And, it was no' worth reading!!!"

One afternoon John Barrymore strolled into a haberdashery on Hollywood Boulevard and asked to be shown some hats. After looking over several he selected one. "I'll take that," he said. "Just charge it."

"Yes, sir," the clerk said eagerly, "and to whom shall I charge it?"

One famous eyebrow went up. "Barrymore," the Great Profile said icily.

"Yes, sir," said the clerk, "and what's the first name, please?"

This was too much for the actor. "Ethel!" he barked, and stormed out of the store.

TO SOLITUDE

I am tired of love and war;
Noise and striving I abhor;
The jangling of the telephone
Cuts my soul unto the bone
And doing work (some earthly chore)
Is irksome, tiresome and a bore.
Listening to some teachers' tone
Is not a thing I can condone.
And action, such as Western lore,
Became obnoxious long before.

I cannot stand a speech high flown;
Social functions make me moan.
Exercise for me no more,
Athletics make me very sore.
In short, I think I've clearly shown
I'd really rather be alone.

Remember, when the Lord had a hard job to be done, he turned it all over to Moses—not to a committee of prominent Israelites.

A conservative is one who does not think that anything should be done for the first time.

Quite often when a man thinks his mind is getting broader, it is only his conscience stretching.

Where do some people get all the impunity they do things with?

"This life is all a fleeting show, yet no wise man regrets it; man wants but little here below, and generally he gets it."

Some middle-aged people have this consolation—old age can't do anything to their looks.

Money never made a fool of anybody. It just exposed him.

Long-continued application of cold towels might reduce a swelled head, but adversity will do it in a hurry.

Principles are often prejudices, white-washed and surmounted by a neon halo.

DOUBLE HARNFESS

Being married saves a man a lot of time making up his mind about things.

Enduring love is no dainty Cupid thing. It must be as husky as a piano mover to stand up under all the punishment it gets in married life.

Married life isn't so bad, once a husband gets so he can eat what his wife likes.

Most men declare they picked their wives. Their wives, you will observe, smile and say nothing, or else hurriedly change the subject.

A good husband is one who will wash up when asked and dry up when told.

If you are not appreciated at home, buy a dog—any kind of dog.

The divorce problem exists simply because there are too many married couples and too few husbands and wives.

A funny thing is love,
Which cometh from above,
And lighteth like a dove—on some.
And some whom it hits,
It gives three kinds of fits,
And scatters all their wits—oh, hum!"

A confirmed bachelor is one who won't take "yes" for an answer.

He (or she) who has a "contagious laugh" is worth catching.

Girls, the first step in the art of cooking is to learn how to bring some man you'd like to cook for, to a boil.

A little flattery now and then makes husbands of the single men.

Women are better readers than men. They read between the lines of stories, and between the lyings of the men who tell 'em.

Distant relatives should learn to keep their distance.

Women are sphinxes without secrets.

A clever man tells a woman he understands her; a stupid one tries to prove it.

"Can I lead a good Christian life in New York City on $15 a week?" Bill Jo Davenport once asked a prominent New Yorker.

"My boy," was the reply, "that's all you can do."

JOHNNY'S FUN

Johnny climbed up on the bed.

And Hammered nails in Mama's head,
Though the child was much elated,
Mama felt quite irritated.

A MERRY GAME

Betty and Belinda Ames

Have the pleasantest of games:

Such a joke! for little Bet
Hasn't found the baby yet.

I once knew a young man named Tate
Who dined with his date at 8:08,
But I'd hate to relate
What the young man named Tate
And his tele a tele ate at 8:08.

THE BOAT THAT AIN'T

A stout, fat boat for galin'
And a long, slim boat for squall;
But there isn't no fun in sailin'
When you haven't no boat at all.

For what is the use o' calkin'
A tub with a mustard pot—
And what is the use o' talkin'
Of a boat that you haven't got?

Explorer—"When I was traveling in Africa I saw a tribe of wild women. They did not have any tongues."

Carolyn Travis—"No tongues! How could they talk?"

Explorer—"They couldn't. That's what made them wild."

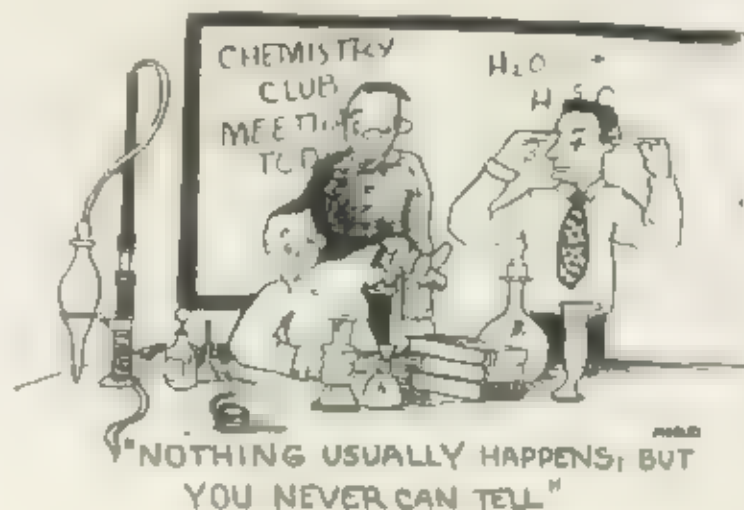

Every woman has three inalienable rights:
Life, liberty, and the pursuit of a husband.

"What became of that Russian delegate who insulted you?"

"He choked to death."

"How did that happen?"

"I made him swallow his own words!"

Young Hopeful—"Well, then, what is a man who leaves his party and comes over to yours?"

Jeanne Rabke, who had just completed the First Aid course, saw a man lying prone in the street and was shocked that passersby callously paid no attention to him. So she rushed up and began giving him artificial respiration. The man raised his said and said, "Lady, I don't know what you're trying to do, but I'm trying to get a wire down this manhole."

"Why, that rich old fool doesn't know he's living."

"True, but his relatives feel it keenly."

"What type of girls do you like best?"

Henry Mobley: "I like the shy, demure type myself. You know, the kind you have to whistle at twice."

In Calgary, Alberta, a frugal barber had his garage insulated with a year's savings of his customers' shorn locks.

"Men marry because they are tired; women because they are curious. Both are disappointed."

Asked to comment on the new styles in women's clothes, Ed Thiele commented: "It used to be that women dressed to attract us men." Then came a puzzled look. "I wonder," he finally said, "what they've got on their minds now?"

"People always give the best of advice to others, when usually they need it themselves. It is what I call the depth of generosity."

"Mrs. Brown has kleptomania."
"Indeed! What's she taking for it?"
"Anything that looks good to her."

Sherlock Holmes: "Hands up, old chap, or I'll shoot!"

Quick-witted Burglar: "I say, fifty dollars for the gun!"

"Yes, I know. Her hair turned quite gold from grief."

BABY'S LOOKS

Bobby, with the nursery shears,
Cut off both the baby's ears;
At the baby, so unsightly,
Mama raised her eyebrows slightly.

JEANETTE PRANKS

One night, Jeanette, a raquish luss lass, Sneaked in the guest room and turned on the gas,
When morning dawned the guest was dead in bed,
But "Children will be children,"
Mama said.

Among your many playmates here,
How is it that you all prefer
Your little friend, my dear?
"Because, mamma, tho' hard we try,
Not one of us can spit so high
And catch it in his ear."

A proverb teaches that a rolling stone gathers no moss, and a setting hen never grows fat.

There once was a young lady named Lynn
Who was so exceedingly thin
That when she essayed
To drink lemonade
She slipped down the straw and fell in.

There once was a young lady from Banker
Who slept while the ship lay at anchor.
She awoke with dismay
When she heard the mate say:
"Hoist up the topsheet and spank 'er!"

"What is a dry dock?"

"Thirsty physician."

Statistics show that thin persons live longer than fat ones. Even a germ likes meat on the bone.

We hope to live long enough to see a steam shovel absentmindedly reach over and scoop up a dipperful of spectators.

As we understand the doctors, we can live much longer if we quit everything that makes us want to.

"Know thyself" is a good maxim, in some cases. But in obeying it one may waste a lot of time which could be spent in making more desirable acquaintances.

Fault-finders do not improve the world;
they only make it seem so much worse than it is that the rest of us have to do something about it in order to have a little peace.

Here's the chief difference: an illiterate person can tell you only what he thinks, a college man is likely to tell you what somebody else thought."

"Horse sense" is probably called that because the horse was afraid of the auto the first time he saw it, whereas men only laughed.

We can think of only two nice things that can truthfully be said about spinach: there are no bones in it, and it has lots of grit.

Stooge: An amusing fellow who works hard to enable a dreary comedian to say a few things that are not very funny.

Some say "desire for peace does not insure it." No, and neither does desire for food satisfy hunger, but it does start us looking for a restaurant.

A gambler died. The funeral was well attended by his professional friends. In the eulogy, the minister said: "Spike is not dead. He only sleeps."

From the rear of the chapel came a voice:
"I got $100 that says he's dead!"

I hate the guys
Who criticize
And minimize
The other guys
Whose enterprise
Has made them rise
Above the guys
Who criticize.

VICKERY PARK GROCERY AND MARKET

Once there was a boy and his mother who went to town. While they were there, they saw two men with bow legs. The boy said, "Mother! Look at those men with the funny looking legs." The mother was shocked so she decided to teach her son some culture. For three months the little boy read nothing but Shakespeare. They went to town again and saw the same two men. This time the little boy said, "Tally ho! What men are these who wear their legs in parentheses?"

The few persons we have met who admitted they never made mistakes were otherwise very uninteresting.

Doing nothing is the original painless operation. But, jumpin' Jupiter! how the after-effects hurt!

No matter what his faults, everyone has his good points. Even the devil works diligently at his own business.

We never missed catching a train by not running fast enough. On the contrary, we missed it by not starting soon enough.

Some folks not only expect the worst, they drive down to the station to meet it.

Congenial work, and plenty of it, is a sure-fire cure for whatever ails a healthy person.

Why should it be surprising that some people are so stupid? They give all their time to it.

Too many people are like buttons—always popping off at the wrong time.

A willing quitter is more to be admired than the persistent fool who finishes things he never should have started.

Only those who can endure being despised, snubbed, and laughed at, should attempt to please anybody but themselves.

The tongue-tied man is compensated by having few enemies.

The person most worth listening to seldom talks until everybody else gets through.

Many of us can make as much noise as Spike Jones and his alleged orchestra. The hard part consists in getting an encore.

Beauty Hint: Nothing ruins a lovely complexion quicker than marrying a scalawag to reform him.

Two women are to be pitied: she who timidly runs away from men, and she who desperately runs after them.
